TWENTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT.

THE ushering in of the year eighteen hundred and seventy-three (1873) presents another page in the annals of "Foster Home," unmarked, however, by any unusally interesting event.

Since the last Report, the blessing of God has rested upon the efforts of the Managers to provide a comfortable home for those children whom He in His wise Providence, has seen fit to deprive of their natural protectors; which should be a cause of never-ceasing gratitude.

The object for which this Institution was founded has been so often sounded in the ears of the public, that it seems unnecessary to repeat it; suffice it to say, the Managers do all in their power to make a happy home for destitute little ones, who, from any cause, are left without one; thrown upon a cold heartless world, there to drag out a miserable existence, and sad childhood, with no one on Christmas morning to minister to their wants or pleasures, or even wish them a happy day.

Thousands of such children are to be found in the streets and alleys of our city; and, could there be a "Home" planted in every district, there would not be one too many to pour the oil of joy and gladness into the hearts of the children of poverty and suffering.

The startling words of our Saviour, identifying Himself with the poor and suffering, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, ye have done it unto Me," connected with the prophetic view of the judgment, and the reward of those who have ministered to such suffering on earth, "Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you before the foundation of the world; for I was an hungered, and ye gave Me meat; I was thirsty, and ye gave Me drink; naked, and ye clothed Me," etc., cannot fall upon the Christian ear without meeting a response from the heart, saying, Lord, what wilt Thou have me to give?

The blessing of health has been bestowed upon the "Home" during the past year; not one death has occurred, and no severe cases of sickness.

There are now one hundred children under its roof, fifty-three boys, and forty-seven girls; all healthy and happy, well fed, well clothed, and taught all that is necessary for usefulness in life; and at the same time not forgetting that youth is the season to impress upon the mind those divine truths which alone can prepare us for another and more enduring state of existence. The Managers here pause to acknowledge the faithfulness of one of their number, in her self-denying labors in a Bible class, held weekly, for the larger girls.

Twenty-eight children have been admitted during the year; seventeen removed; places procured for two boys in the country; two admitted into "Girard College;" one into the "Orphans' Asylum." Seventeen boys and thirteen girls have been deserted by their parents, and thrown entirely upon the Institution for support.

With the exception of a few very small children, all attend school in one or other of the departments, are all taught, both boys and girls, to read, write, cipher, and knit. The girls, in addition, are taught plain sewing, mending, to darn their own stockings, also useful house work.

No child will be admitted into the Institution under three years of age, and no boys over six.

The Home is in charge of the same officers (excepting the Teacher), who have faithfully performed their duties for many years, and, notwithstanding the changes in the school, it is steadily progressing.

The expenses of the "Home" have been greater, perhaps, this year, than any former one, owing to the positive necessity of making some repairs in matters which were neglected in the building of the Institution.

Our physicians, Drs. Packard, Ashhurst, Paul, and Markoe, still gratuitously give their kind services and attention, for which the Managers present to them their warmest thanks.

The gentlemen who constantly and alternately instruct the children on Sunday, also have the continued thanks of the ladies.

The Managers again express their gratitude to their friend and baker, Mr. Rose, who never forgets to contribute to the children's pleasure; also to their worthy milkman, Mr. Webster, who often remembers them.

The "Home" is located at the corner of Twenty-fourth and Poplar streets, and can be daily visited.

Donations of any kind thankfully received by any of the Managers, or at the Institution.

TWENTY-EIGHTH ANNUAL REPORT.

THE Managers of the Foster Home, in making their report for 1873, acknowledge with the deepest gratitude the continued blessing of God upon their labors for the destitute children under their care. The past year has been one of health and prosperity to the Institution, as there have been no deaths and little sickness among its inmates, and timely donations have replenished its sometimes reduced treasury.

There are at present 93 children in the Home, 30 have left during the year, 6 of whom have been received into the Educational Home, their fathers having been soldiers in the late war. One child has gone to Girard College. 26 children have been admitted, and the Board has been obliged to reject many applications. No child under the age of three is admitted, and no boy over six. Many of the children have parents who pay a small sum for their board; some are paid for by ladies who are interested in them, and others are charity children. They all, with the exception of a few little ones, attend school, and the girls are taught to sew. The officers of the Institution, most of them of many years' standing, are efficient and seem interested in their work.

A generous donation, received in the spring from the sister of one of the managers, was appropriated towards the erection of a large inclosed veranda on the west side of the house. Here the children can play in all weathers, and it contributes greatly to their health and amusement.

The Board wish to thank for their gratuitous services their physicians, Drs. Packard, Ashhurst, Paul, and Bell, who have been unfailingly kind and attentive in times of sickness.

Quite a touching evidence of the affection of the inmates of the Institution for their adopted home, was afforded the Managers a few days since in the case of a young girl who left their care some six months to learn dressmaking in this city. She is a good and industrious girl, working diligently at her trade, and has expressed it as her greatest desire and ambition to learn to sew sufficiently well to return to the Foster Home as seamstress. The proof of such love for the Home cannot fail to be gratifying to those who have the charge of it.

The Managers must express to their kind and generous friend, Mr. I. V. Williamson, their warmest thanks for his recent gift of $2000 in ground-rents, a most liberal and timely donation, amounting with what he has given before to $5000. He is indeed a noble friend to the Home.

Mr. Rose, a kind friend of the Institution, is cordially thanked for his frequent contributions to the children's pleasure So also is their milkman, Mr. Kester, who has so often made them presents.

In conclusion, the Managers invite all who feel any interest in the Home to visit it, feeling sure that the interest will be increased by the sight of the many little ones rescued from poverty and perhaps crime to be cared for, educated, and made happy. The health and happiness shining in their faces cannot fail to pleasantly affect the beholder. Surely this is a good work and deserves encouragement.

The Home is located at Twenty-fourth and Poplar Streets, and can be visited daily, except Sunday.

TWENTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT.

The year 1874 has been one of continued prosperity to the Foster Home, and the Managers feel thankful to Providence for His blessing upon their labors, which have resulted in so much comfort and happiness to the little ones under their care. The children are at present remarkably well, and there has been but little sickness in the past year, though two deaths occurred during the summer—one a good and studious boy, for seven years an inmate of the Home, and the other a little girl recently admitted. Here the Managers must offer their thanks to Drs. Ashhurst, Paul, Bell, and Butcher, who have unremittingly and gratuitously watched over the health of the Institution.

There are now 94 children in the Home, 41 having been admitted and 26 taken away during the past year; 1 child entered the Educational Home. No child under three years of age, and no boy over six is received into the Foster Home. A small sum towards the board of the children is required from the parents or guardians who are able to pay it, while many of the inmates of the Home are paid for by ladies interested in them, or are charity children. All, except the very little ones, are taught in the school-rooms, and the girls learn to sew and do housework. Both boys and girls are taught to knit. Most of the officers have held their positions for many years, and all faithfully perform their work to the satisfaction of the managers and the advantage of the children. The kindness of the gentlemen who instruct the children on Sunday is thankfully appreciated. Also, that of Mr. Graham, pastor of Olivet Church, who has given them excellent seats in his church.

The treasury of the Home has been several times replenished by donations from generous well-wishers, and the Board of Managers particularly and gratefully acknowledge the liberal bequest of $10,000 from the estate of Dr. Mifflin Wistar. The Foster Home, as a place where little children were kindly sheltered and cared for, was an institution in which he always felt a special interest

The Managers must express their sorrow for the death of Mr. Lewis R. Ashhurst, one of the earliest members of their Board of Counsel, who continued until the end of his life cheerfully to give them the benefit of his clear and sound judgment.

The ladies again thank Mr. Rose, the baker, and Mr. Kester, the milkman of the Institution, for their kind remembrance of the children on various occasions.

A short account of the foundation of the Foster Home, taken from a sketch by one of the original Managers, may be interesting to the public. The Home has been in existence since the year 1837, the idea of such an institution having been suggested to a charitable lady of our city in the following manner: In the winter of 1838 a poor man from Pittsburgh, bringing with him motherless twins only a few weeks old, came to Philadelphia in search of work, and wishing to support his children, endeavored to find a place to put them out to board. The lady above referred to, in her visits among the poor, met with this case, was interested in it, and perceived the difficulty in obtaining a place where the children would be properly cared for. This great want suggested to her mind an institution where a father or mother left with children could put them into a place of safety, and be at liberty to work, and by partly paying for their support, feel that the little ones were not entirely dependent upon charity. She resolved to undertake the founding of such an institution, and invited others to join her and become Managers. Having divided the city into districts, each Manager selected one for the purpose of collecting. A kind response was given, and very little difficulty was experienced in raising the $2000 necessary for its support yearly. The plan seemed to appeal directly to the hearts of the people, and some who were far from rich subscribed liberally. A house was rented in Third Street near South, and the Home was opened in the fall of 1837 with a few inmates. In 1838 the number of children had increased, and it was found necessary to employ a teacher. In 1839 the Third Street house was given up for the one in Chestnut Street, below what is now Nineteenth Street; later the Home was moved to Preston Retreat, and finally to its present location at the corner of Twenty-fourth and Poplar Streets. The good work which had its origin in so small a beginning has steadily progressed during all these years, and all who feel any interest in it are invited to call and judge of its usefulness for themselves. The Institution is open to visitors every day except Sunday.

After our report was written and ready for the press—just as the year 1875 was ushered in—there came to us the startling intelligence that death had very suddenly terminated the useful life of one of our most beloved and valued Managers, Mrs. Louis A. Godey. We cannot allude to her death without expressing the deepest sorrow for the irreparable loss our Institution has sustained by her removal. Hers was a spirit cast in no ordinary mould—uniting great activity of body with a noble and generous soul; her hands were ever ready for any work, and if means were needed for that work, she was always prompt to bestow them. Nothing of a trifling nature ever kept her from the Home. She never neglected a duty. Her life was a bright example to those of us who are left; and her untiring zeal and interest in this Institution can never be forgotten by those with whom she was associated. The Managers can only say, "It is the Lord—He hath done what seemeth him good." She rests from her labors, and her works do follow her.

THIRTIETH ANNUAL REPORT.

THE Managers of the Foster Home, in presenting to the public their report for 1875, have gratefully to record the continued blessing of Providence upon their labors. The past year has been one of prosperity to the Institution, the remarkably healthy and happy appearance of the children attesting to their well-being and the care bestowed upon them. They have suffered very little from sickness during the last twelve months, and but one child has died—a little boy, delicate when he entered, and only a short time an inmate of the "Home."

At present there are ninety-six children in the Institution; twenty-four have been admitted since 1874, and twenty-five have left. Of the latter two boys have been received into the Educational Home, and two into the Lincoln Institute; two girls have gone to the Industrial Home, and one to the Young Women's Boarding Home; these seven had been in the Foster Home a number of years. The nursery contains sixteen little ones—eleven boys and five girls. No child under three years of age, and no boy over six, is admitted. Many of the children have parents who pay a small sum towards their board; others are paid for by ladies or gentlemen interested in them, and quite a number are charity children. All, except those in the nursery, are taught in the school-rooms, and the girls learn to sew. The officers, most of whom have been many years in the Institution, are kind and efficient.

The past year's expenses have been very heavy, owing especially to the necessity of flagging half of the large yard behind the house, and of repairing the roof, which was partly blown off during a gale in the summer. The Managers gratefully acknowledge the generosity of Mr. Louis A. Godey and a friend of Mrs. Alexander Brown, through which they have been enabled to make the numerous repairs necessary in the "Home," as will be seen by the Treasurer's report. This timely assistance has greatly contributed to the present comfortable and cheerful appearance of the Institution.

Drs. Ashhurst, Butcher, Paul, and Bell are cordially thanked for their gratuitous care and attention in time of sickness.

The Managers again express their thanks to the gentlemen who alternately instruct the children on Sunday afternoon, and acknowledge once more the kindness of Mr. Rose, the baker, and Mr. Kester, the milkman of the Institution, who have contributed to the children's wants on various occasions.

The making of four hundred and thirty garments by Mrs. Shober's Dorcas Society has been of great assistance and thankfully accepted.

In conclusion, all feeling any interest in the "Home" are cordially invited to visit it and judge of the work going forward; a work that the Managers feel they may safely allow to speak for itself.

The Institution is at the corner of 24th and Poplar Streets, and open to visitors every day except Sunday.
